

Benefits of Membership

CNSF members belong to one, or more, of our four constituent Societies.

Canadian Neurological Society (CNS)
Canadian Association of Child Neurology (CACN)
Canadian Neurosurgical Society (CNSS)
Canadian Society of Clinical Neurophysiologists (CSCN)
Membership includes the following benefits:

Canadian Journal of Neurological Sciences

The Canadian Journal of Neurological Sciences is the official publication of our four member societies. The Journal is a widely circulated, internationally recognized, peer reviewed medical journal.

Members receive a full subscription to the Canadian Journal of Neurological Sciences (CJNS) in hard copy and online through the CNSF Member Centre.

Members also receive a $100.00 discount when paying for color graphics (if desired) to accompany their papers accepted for publication in the Journal.

CNSF Members and Journal subscribers have exclusive access to the 2 most current years of this publication. If an author requests immediate open access for an article, in accordance with CIHR Granting requirement, the repository upload fee is $2,000.00 / article for first open access repository upload.

CNSF Members pay only $1000 for this service.

Annual Society Prizes

Members have the opportunity to win valuable society prizes. There are 6 first prizes available, each valued at approximately $2500. Winners have the privilege of presenting their work at a Platform presentation at the Congress.

There are also 8 opportunities for $500 second prizes. All details and submission information is available in the annual "Call for Abstracts book" on our website.

Annual Congress

Our Federation, assisted by the Professional Development and the Scientific Program Committees, hosts an Annual Canadian Congress geared towards the continued professional development learning needs of Neurologists, Neurosurgeons, Pediatric Neurologists, Neurophysiologists and Neuroscientists.

Members attend the CNSF Annual Congress at a generously discounted registration fee.

Members' Centre

Our website contains Congress information, Advocacy information and general Society information. Members have additional access, within the password protected "Members' Centre". This site includes access to the Journal articles back to 1999, Society minutes, directories and other information.

Residents

First-year residents can apply for complimentary first-year membership, paid by their member society.

Subsequent years of membership during residency are also partially subsidized by their Society.

Scotia Professional® Plan

The CNSF and Scotiabank alliance provides CNSF members with an enhanced Scotia Professional® Plan, a flexible program designed to meet your financial needs at each stage in your career. Additional information may be found within the CNSF Members' Centre.

Not a member of the CNSF (CNS, CACN, CNSS, CSCN)?

Would you like to become a CNSF member and take advantage of these Benefits of Membership? Download the appropriate Society Application Form by choosing your society of interest. <http://www.cnsfederation.org/>.