

The Canadian Society of Clinical Neurophysiologists

The 2012 Herbert Jasper Prize

The Herbert Jasper Prize is awarded annually for the best submitted paper in clinical or basic neurophysiology by a resident or fellow in training.

1. The prize consists of a certificate as well as:
 - o $1,000 cash
 - o Full registration to the Congress, value $600 (approx).
 - o Travel to the Congress, maximum $700, receipts required.
 - o 2 nights accommodation, maximum $500, receipts required.
2. A second place award of $500 may be awarded as well.
3. In order to be eligible for this prize, contestants need to be a member of one of the four Societies of the CNSF (a Junior member or an Active member within two years of receiving their certificate).
4. Full papers prepared in the standard format of the Canadian Journal of Neurological Sciences should be submitted electronically in a PDF file with an abstract of 200 words or less, and consist of a report of the research project findings and relevant related material.
5. Authors must include a signed statement indicating that the paper has not been presented at any other meeting or previously published (presentation at residents/fellows research symposium excluded).
6. All Society Prize submissions must be received by January 15, 2012. This deadline is firm.
7. Contestants must also submit an abstract to the CNSF Annual Congress, on the official online abstract submission form.
8. The CSCN is also offering a single $500 award for the best EEG abstract submitted to the Congress, and a single $500 award for the best EMG abstract submitted to the Congress.

Applicants for the prize should send their submissions to:
